

What you will learn from Module 06 ..

In this Module, you will benefit from learning to

- Understand leadership in crisis, the myths and the reality
- Differentiate between leadership versus management
- Benefit from 5 important tips for leading in crisis
- Understand different management styles and decision making processes
- Determine personality profiles
- Upskill in the guiding principles of leadership in crisis
- Understand the importance and skills of business crisis communication

And finally, you will learn about motivating employees in crisis. Given, our teams and talent need to be a key part of crisis management, you will upskill in key motivation theories from which motivation approaches in crisis can be framed.

